A. Leon Capel is born

Gee-Haw Plow Lines, A. Leon Capel fashioned braids and created the very first reversible yarn braided rug, calling it "New Departure." This was the beginning of the Capel family rug business.

STORY

Q: What qualities enable a company to thrive for a hundred years?

A: Surefooted, reliable, occasionally stubborn.

Say hello
to Gee.

Gee is a symbol of how Capel Rugs came to be, and of a philosophy that has helped us achieve enduring success.

A. Leon Capel set out to make plow lines and ropes for the mules that were the mainstay of farmers across America. He named his company Gee-Haw, for the traditional commands given to mules—"Gee" for right, "Haw" for left. The advent of the tractor dashed that plan, so Leon simply came up with a new one, embracing the machine age to create an industry—making high-quality braided rugs that brought color, comfort and warmth to homes all over the country.

Leon was sure of his abilities. He provided a reliable, quality product. And he refused to quit.

Gee, that sounds familiar.

CAPEL LAUNCHES IMPORT BUSINESS

Seeing a demand for a more diverse product line, Capel branched out from braids and began offering imported collections from Japan and Finland. The line would continue to expand to include high-quality hand tufted and hand knotted rugs from India and China.

THE ENDURING APPEAL OF THE RUNNER

HOW TO FIND THE RIGHT FIT FOR THESE UNIQUELY SHAPED RUGS.

When it comes to runners, it's time to think beyond the hallway. Their long, narrow shape can bring unexpected comfort and style to spaces you may have overlooked—like kitchens, bathrooms and closets.

In the same way an area rug ties together a living room, a well-placed runner can make a narrow space feel more connected and purposefully designed. Bring warmth to an austere kitchen. Put some pizazz in the master bath. Add a living room vibe to a long walk-in closet. Wherever you decide to roll out a runner, it's bound to take the décor up a notch.

Once you know the space, consider the rug's look and performance. Need something bold? Patterned? Water resistant? Luxuriously soft? Envision all the elements and activities of the room, and let the rug be the central anchor.

As home design trends toward a focus on the essentials, every furnishing must serve a purpose. We see runners only becoming more popular for their rare ability to bring personality and warmth to those smaller, often forgotten spaces.

THE CAPEL RUGS

"MORE IS MORE" APPROACH

TO RUG SIZING

Picking the right size rug is easy with these four steps:

STEP ONE

CREATE A SIMPLE SKETCH OF YOUR ROOM AND WRITE DOWN THE OVERALL MEASUREMENTS.
DON'T FORGET TO NOTE DOORS AND FIREPLACES.

STEP TWO

SUBTRACT THREE FEET FROM THE WIDTH AND LENGTH OF THE ROOM, THEN JOT THOSE NUMBERS DOWN. THIS TELLS YOU THE MAXIMUM SIZE YOUR RUG SHOULD BE.

STEP THREE

DECIDE WHAT AREAS TO COVER
WITH A RUG. LOOK AT SEATING
ARRANGEMENTS AND TAKE TRAFFIC
FLOW INTO CONSIDERATION. MAKE
NOTE OF THE MINIMUM SIZE YOU NEED TO COVER THE SPACE.

STEP FOUR

CHOOSE THE STANDARD RUG SIZE
THAT COMES CLOSEST TO MAXIMIZING
THE SPACE YOU WANT TO COVER.

RUG TERMS

(EX.PLAIN.ED)

Ever gotten your warp mixed up with your weft? Your pile height with your ply? Avoid that with this handy rug guide.

ABRASH

A change in the shade of color within the rug. Usually appears in a horizontal line.

BACKING

Heavy fabric (we use canvas duck) secured to the back of a rug for extra support.

BORDER

A design that forms the outside edge of a rug.

CARVING

Created with hand-held carving tools. Used to accentuate details in hand tufted and hand knotted designs.

CROSS-WOVEN

Refers to a rug woven horizontally opposed to vertically.

DENSITY

A measure of quality in a rug determined by the amount of yarn and the pile height.

DHURRIE

A type of flat woven rug made of cotton or wool using the kelim method.

HOOKED

When yarns are pushed through canvas cloth to form the design.

KNOT

Knots are used in pile-woven and tied-by-hand knotted rugs. Knot count is a measure of quality and simply refers to the number of knots contained in one square inch.

PILE

Pile is the surface of the rug, sometimes called the "nap" or "face." Pile height refers to the height of the face yarns.

PLY

Created when one or more yarns are twisted together to create a larger piece of yarn.

STAPLE

The average length of fibers in a piece of yarn.

TUFTING

Hand tufted rugs are made similarly to hooked rugs with the exception of the loops being cut to create a flat surface. Some tufted rugs feature a combination of looped and cut pile, which makes for an interesting three-dimensional effect.

WARP

Warp forms the backbone of a rug. Warp yarns are attached to the loom and run the length of a rug.

WEFT

The yarns that are woven horizontally across the warp of the rug.

THROUGH THE DECADES

1910s

New technology brings new opportunities—for Henry Ford and A. Leon Capel alike. Though Ford's tractor would drive Leon out of the plow lines and rope game, sewing machines become a key cog in his upstart rug business.

1940s

The Second World War takes center stage. As the U.S. enters the fray, American manufacturing awakens in full force, creating an energized and unified home front. Capel works creatively with material producers to deliver quality products amid wartime constraints.

1920s

As the Capel family grows, business booms across the land. Innovations in automation, transportation and entertainment fuel a country thirsty for more, and A. Leon Capel's ground breaking rug designs begin to catch on.

The Great Depression hits, and hard times befall the working man. Despite significant financial trouble, A. Leon Capel manages to keep his company afloat while providing as much work and support as possible to his employees through the lean period.

"NEW DEPARTURE" BRAIDED RUG

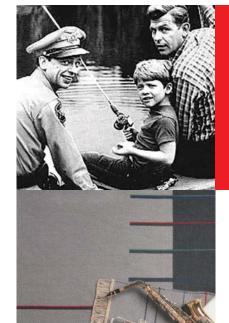

1950s

Peacetime blossoms into a revitalized focus on home and family. Popular pastimes include Slinky, Barbie and the television. With a new era of business opportunities on the horizon, the Capel boys return home to help their father run the company.

1960s

Andy Griffith puts rural North Carolina on the map, and major events shape the course of history at home and abroad. With the globe feeling ever-smaller, Capel leaps into the imports business-just another example of a small-town story taking the world by storm.

1990s

Leon, Jesse and Arron Capel steer the company into the digital age while doing their part to preserve tradition—like developing the Woven Spirits Navajo program through a partnership with the same yarn maker that supplied Navajo weavers in the 1880s.

1970s

A. Leon Capel retires, passing the torch to the Capel men of "G2." As the new leaders learn to run things their own way, the company finds its groove in an era defined by color and expression, with The Bee Gees, Simon & Garfunkel and The Jackson 5 supplying the kaleidoscopic soundtrack.

As home renovation goes mainstream through design-obsessed programming on networks like HGTV, Capel stands as a brand both global and local, always honoring the family legacy that makes Capel the importer and manufacturer offering more rugs in more categories than any other area rug company.

MAKING LEON PROUD:

OUR GRANDFATHER, THE LATE A. LEON CAPEL, WAS THE FIRST TO MAKE BRAIDED RUGS THIS WAY. WE'D LIKE TO THINK HE'D BE PLEASED TO SEE HOW WE'VE CARRIED ON HIS LEGACY.

WHEN IT COMES TO CAPEL BRAIDS, THERE ARE SO MANY REASONS TO FALL IN LOVE: 1[№]

CELEBRATING 100 YEARS:

WELL-MADE, WELL-LOVED. WE STARTED WITH OUR VARIEGATED YARN BRAIDS 100 YEARS AGO: COLORFUL, DURABLE DESIGNS MADE TO MEET THE RIGOROUS DEMANDS OF LIFE. WE INCLUDED DETAILS LIKE HANDSPUN WOOL AND PATENTED SEWING THREADS. TODAY, WE DRAW FROM THAT HERITAGE TO CREATE CLASSICS WITH UPDATED, DISTINCTIVE STYLE AND AUTHENTIC APPEAL.

A GUIDE TO OUR PREMIUM PERFORMANCE FIBERS

FROM OUR SPINNING MILL TO YOUR HOME

Sturdy pile, repels water and stains, good heat insulation.

Wool braids are a prime choice for high-traffic areas, such as living rooms and hallways, or spill-prone spaces, such as dining rooms.

COTTON CHENILLE

Soft and stable, natural product, fluffy fiber.

Popular in bedrooms and sitting areas. A chenille braid can provide a cozy spot in a nursery for tummy time or helping a baby learn to crawl.

Easy to clean, very durable, generally fade- and stain-resistant.

NYLON CHENILLE

Nylon braids are created to mimic the look of wool and high-quality fiber rugs at a lower price point. A great choice if you like to frequently update your style.

POLYPROPYLENE

The most stain- and fade-resistant material, extremely durable.

Polypropylene is the material we use to make our indoor-outdoor braids. Polypropylene is also a smart choice under a dining table because it is so easy to clean.

BLEND

Secret recipes from our spinning mill, Capelsie.

We spin our own yarns in our Capelsie mill and that gives us the ability to create our own custom yarn blends. Sometimes the secret ingredients include wool for durability and toughness or nylon for resilience and suppleness.

100% SATISFACTION GUARANTEED:
